Computer Society of India is the first and largest body of computer professionals in India. The CSI students chapter of VCET was established in the year 2003. Amidst all, it's other responsibilities the CSI students chapter understands that the primary objective of its existence is to promote the development of a coding culture and to help students ameliorate their technical skills. To achieve this, CSI-VCET organizes various technical seminars, workshops, coding competitions, and project showcases every year.
